

In the light of the sun, the moon,

the stars or Clay Paky

Bringing out the best in an architectural structure via correct colour illumination, without altering its original personality. This is the aim of all lighting engineers whether illuminating an ancient monument or a modern building.

Clay Paky has created the latest generation of CP Color outdoor colour changers so that professional lighting of a historic building, a shopping centre or a modern urban scene can compete on equal terms with the sun, the moon and the stars.

Colour power and quality in millions of chromatic variations.
